Allowance of Application # 09/873,553

1. The following communication is in response to applicant's Amendment and Terminal Disclaimer, received 3-February-2005. This application is CON of 09/237,549, filed on 26-January-1999, now U.S. Patent No. 6,606,588, which is a CON of 09/041,985, filed on 13-March-1998, now U.S. Patent No. 6,233,540.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter. The instant application is directed to a nonobvious improvement over the information described in the article, "OPERAS in a DSP CAD Environment", by Yeh et al., the improvement comprising an apparatus and method for generating from a behavioral description of a system comprising at least one digital system part, an implementable description for the system that is suitable for simulating the system as software. This patentable distinction is included in each of the independent claims 1, 11, 24, 35, 40, 41, 45, 46, 49, 52 and 53. The art of record fails to teach, suggest, or render obvious the <generation of an implementable description of a system from the behavioral description of said system utilizing transformations and/or refinements to shift between the description types> having the corresponding structure which is disclosed in the specification and equivalents thereof at least at <page 13, line 19 through page 333, line 17, and Figures 1-24>. In view of the foregoing, the claims of the present application are found to be patentable over the prior art.
